Jeanette Kloppenburg is an expert HP Nonstop specialist with much knowledge on the HP mainframe systems. During hardware migrations for KPN she has developed herself as one the keyplayers within these projects, especially she was responsible for the data migrations. Beside that she also set up disaster recovery scenarios

In her work she acts very seriously and is a really good person to work with.

She is always willing to help in case of issues. See less

During a number of projects, I've had the pleasure working with Jeanette. These were big and complicated projects, that required multiple team working closely together, and involved huge amount of data. During these projects, Jeanette worked tirelessly and above and beyond the call of duty to make sure these project were concluded successfully (which they were). Not only by making sure her own team was fully prepared for all work and eventualities, but also by providing information, insight and advice to anyone asking, or in need of such. I'm sure that without Jeanettes invaluable input, these project (and normal operations!) would not have happened as smoothly and flawlessly as they did, and would be happy to include Jeanette in my future project and / or operations teams in the future.
